He directed the public to Scottsdaleaz.gov and click on the “Coronavirus (COVID-19) resources and information” tab to access resources related to COVID-19 and locations for vaccinations.

Mayor Ortega announced that City Manager Jim Thompson declared stage one of the City’s drought management plan on August 17, 2021. Although the Colorado River tier one shortage is not to be implemented until January 1, 2022, Scottsdale is focused on water conservation and recycling and the City is dedicated to finding new ways to use every drop of water efficiently. The City’s Drought Management Team will examine needs, recommend targeted responses, and increase drought and water shortage communication efforts throughout the City.

Public Comment – Dan Lundberg commented on the bridge over the Rawhide Wash and Miller Road extension project. He requested a block wall noise abatement to the back of his property and installation of traffic calming measures. French Thompson expressed concern over increased development, water shortages, and lack of adequate infrastructure. Arthur Deal spoke to the San Francisco Giant’s sublease of Papago Park and the status of a federal lawsuit on the issue.

Public Comment time is reserved for Scottsdale citizens to comment on non-agendized items that are within the Council’s jurisdiction. No official Council action can be taken on these items.
